ERIC PAROIS
Global Market Director

“A world player in specialty chemicals, the Arkema Group is an integrated, multi-technology pressure sensitive adhesive (PSA) provider comprised of several business units worldwide. As a result, our organization is uniquely positioned to offer a variety of solutions to the market, from raw materials to ready-to-coat, solventless, high-performance adhesives, all designed to meet even the most challenging application requirements.

Additionally, the Arkema Group keeps innovation at the forefront, ensuring today’s solutions address the evolving market needs of tomorrow. By improving operational efficiencies and increasing recyclability, our company’s products enable customers to more easily meet sustainability initiatives and manufacture improved end-use products overall.”
